We believe that if you are having difficulty coping with life's problems, or experiencing a sense of unhappiness, choosing counseling is a brave choice. Alyeska Counseling Group, LLC is a team of dedicated professionals reaching the Anchorage community through the provision of integrated mental health and substance abuse assessments and treatment. Our integrated screening seeks to answer "Is there sufficient evidence of a substance use and/or other mental disorder to warrant further exploration?" Providers use empirically proven best practice treatment including Cognitive-behavioral therapy, Motivational Interviewing, and the Matrix substance abuse approach to address client goals and objectives for treatment. Integrated assessment seeks to (1) establish formal diagnoses; (2) evaluate level of functioning to identify factors that could interfere with the ability to function independently and/or follow treatment recommendations, (3) determine the client's readiness for change, and (4) make initial decisions about appropriate level of care. Our approach is client centered taking into account cultural, social, medical and life circumstances. We understand that the individuals perceptions of his or her problem(s) and the goals he or she wishes to accomplish are central to the assessment and treatment plan recommendations. Our licensed and registered Play Therapist effectively uses clinically proven tools to counsel and help children work through problems that are difficult to talk about. Examples of some of those issues are trauma, depression, low self-esteem, school issues, and anger. Our team of licensed and masters level providers offer mental health, substance use and financial counseling services. We offer licensed Family and Couples counseling and certified family mediation, Biblical counseling and coaching for those who request such services. We will provide substance abuse assessments in accordance to the diagnostic criteria of the DSM IV-TR and the patient placement criteria of the ASAM PPC-2R.

We will provide level 0.5, early intervention services by conducting Alcohol and Drug Information School (ADIS) at least one time per month, which entails 12 hours of education spread out over the course of the three days per class, by a certified ADIS instructor.

We will provide individualized level I, outpatient treatment services based upon an interpretive assessment summary completed within six months prior to admission. Length and frequency of services are solely dependent upon the assessment and client progress or lack thereof; thought will range from 1 to 8 hours per week for 1 to 12 months. However, we may refer clients to an independent certified alcohol and drug testing laboratory such as Work Safe.

Our approach to treatment is client centered, empowering and focused on the strengths of individual clients. We believe that clients are capable of making good decisions to regain control of their lives. Treatment is based on the neuroscience concepts of David Rock and Jeffery Schwartz. We draw upon the relapse prevention models of Marlatt and Gorski. The works of Ellis, Beck, Scott Miller and Bowen's Family Systems Theory using a motivational counseling style also influence our treatment approach.

We will offer a sliding fee scale based on income to eligible clients. Additionally, we will provide pro-bono services to a limited number of individuals who cannot afford to pay for treatment and have no other resources. We will also encourage advance payment in full by offering a discount of 10%. Payments for services are due at the time services are rendered, though we do not require deposits prior to starting treatment.

Mountain Minds Matter, Cornerstone Counseling

Counselor:

Shirley Durtschi, PhD, LPC, CDCS

This agency provides an eclectic perspective that mixes humanistic/existentialism with optimistic realism using cognitive behavioral therapy. It is critical to build solid rapport with clients by creating a safe, trusting, supportive and healthy relationship using positive self-talk and reinforcement and utilizing behavioral concepts that teach coping skills through Dialectic Behavioral Therapy (DBT). A focus is on insightful knowledge associated with attributes of motivation and understanding of human behavior through listening and providing meaningful and helpful feedback.

Behavioral Therapy (DBT); 1) clients are doing the best they can, but they need to be more effective, and 2) clients may not have caused all their problems and yet they have to solve them. Her treatment approach utilizes Cognitive Behavioral therapy, 12 Step, psycho-education, EMDR, and spiritual resources depending on the needs and desire of the client. She has extensive cross-cultural experience.

In addition to experience in substance abuse issues and working with clients who have legal involvement, Gayle Nauska has knowledge and experience in working with health issues/chronic conditions, depression, anxiety, grief, trauma, sexual abuse, LGBT issues, spiritual issues, stress management, anger management, abuse relationships, working with the elderly, caregiver stress, and families with special needs children.

The groups will also, on occasion, include interactive therapeutic exercises. The psycho educational groups will include one-hour of educational presentation/discussion followed by 1 half-hour of homework review discussion.

The standard 50-minute hour individual sessions will be tailored to meet individual client needs, and will be facilitated by either a licensed Master's level Psychotherapist or a CDCII, as determined appropriate by clients' individualized treatment plans.

The program will honor the physical and spiritual components of addiction and mental health issues by providing an array of services through referrals and contracts with various providers. These services include acupuncture, yoga, nutrition, massage and naturopathy, and may include others as need arises.

Trauma is a significant feature of many people who find themselves in treatment; therefore, trauma groups and EMDR sessions provided by staff will be integrated into clients' individual treatment plans as indicated.

There is a vast body of research (MAST study among others) that indicate psychotherapy in conjunction with 12-step support provide clients the best chance for long-term treatment success. During the program, clients will be required to attend two 12-step recovery meetings each week, either NA or AA, and must be able to document their attendance. Staff will help clients orient to meetings and process their experience as a way of helping them integrate 12- step programs into their recovery processes. We will also help clients attain sponsorship by establishing close relationships with different 12-step groups and members.

Our goal is to bridge the gap between mental health and substance abuse treatment in our community by developing a whole-person approach to treatment provided by highly trained, experienced and licensed providers. We are in the planning stages of this program and welcome your feedback, insights and experience as we move forward.

Pacific Rim Counseling

Counselors: Kira Hansen

Pacific Rim Counseling services are as follows: to provide a comprehensive program structure and staffing pattern that provides the persons served with opportunities to obtain and participate in the services offered. PRC-F's outpatient treatment program consists of individual, family and group counseling designed to reduce symptoms and improve functioning of the persons served.

Our philosophy: PRC-F is adamant that clients are people first, individuals who are essentially no different from the population at large. Promoting cognitively-based self-help meetings, avoiding terms like "alcoholic" and "addict", and showing respect for every person served are all an integral part of PRC-F's philosophy.

Goals for the program: Offering an empowerment approach to recovery from addiction; helping families start and stay strong, supporting the integration of the person served into the community, treating mental illness with compassion and respect, reducing recidivism in clients involved in the criminal justice system, improving our services to clients through client feedback and staff education and training, and providing integrated outpatient care for clients experiencing co-occurring disorders. Resources needed to achieve these goals include adequate qualified staff, space dedicated to individual and group services, computer and paper files for financial and clinical records, office furniture to provide a safe and comfortable environment for staff and persons served.

The primary target population of PRC-F is people who have already tried to recover via the 12 steps or those who express an interest in PRC-F's services. The population served also includes clients discharged from inpatient treatment elsewhere and are referred and/or request services in this community. As counseling professionals, PRC-F's clinical staff provide services designed to enhance the quality of clients' lives related to emotional, relational, and personality issues. As with all clients, these clients will be assessed and treated on a case-by-case basis. Those clients who because of their occupation/job site cannot attend regularly scheduled outpatient group meetings will be offered an individualized treatment program.

PRC-F uses a multi-modal approach to teach key program concepts and educate the persons served. This may include but not be limited to didactic presentation, experiential activities, group process, video and audio tapes, readings, written assignments, self-help meetings, and individual insight-oriented therapy. In addition to the general public, the services of PRC-F, Inc., are extended to the Alcohol Safety Action Program and other referral sources, regardless of age race, gender, handicap or other protected circumstance. Services shall be delivered on an outpatient basis, including intensive outpatient track that consists of at least 9 contact hours per week. Service approaches include but not be limited to cognitive behavioral and other research-supported practices.

| 20 | Seven Secrets Counseling & Social Skills Counselor: William Watson Seven Secrets outpatient program services provides a comprehensive program structured and designed to achieve the goals of the program and a staffing pattern designed to ensure maximum opportunities for persons served to access outpatient services to accommodate their individual needs. Seven Secrets Program Philosophy: Alcoholism and other drug addictions are viewed as diseases, which are universal, primary, progressive and fatal if not treated. This complex, chronic disease negatively impacts the physical, emotional, mental, social, cultural and spiritual life of the individual as well as families and communities. With this belief we developed a comprehensive continuum of services, designed to provide appropriate intervention at each stage of the recovery process. Outpatient care philosophy: The outpatient care services are specifically designed for those individuals (ages 12 and over) who have been assessed as being able to successfully complete treatment through this level of care. The appropriate placement in the least restrictive level of care is assessed in an ongoing manner throughout treatment, utilizing standard-industry tools and criteria. Individuals assessed as needing a more intensive or less intensive level of care are referred to either another program that provides the appropriate level of services needed or to a program outside this agency's continuum of services. With appropriate interventions such as diagnosis services, therapy, and the development of recovery skills and support systems, addictions can be arrested, their negative effects minimized, and individuals can learn to live a lifestyle free of mind or mood altering substances. |

This can be done with me or billing.

Other Program Requirements: All clients are assigned a set day and time to help with continuity and consistency of their treatment plan. If the individual has been sent to me by FSAP or LEAP they will be required to attend the hours set forth by the court. For these two programs I will see them on an individual basis until I have enough to start a group.

| 24 | Ninilchik Traditional Counsel Counselor: Christine Prokop Summary: The mission of the Ninilchik Traditional Community Clinic Behavioral Health Program (NTC BH) is to increase the quality and availability of behavioral health care (mental health and substance abuse treatment) in the NTC service area. NTC BH treatment program utilizes a strengths-based, culturally sensitive approach using the disease and recovery model and emphasizing an integrated methodology to treatment. Treatment plans are individualized and tailored to client needs based on stage of change/ phase of recovery, level of functioning, diagnosis, and internal/ external motivation. Treatment plans assist the client in developing an awareness of individual strengths and using those strengths to address issues in his/ her life. The NTC BH program philosophy is based on the Minkoff's model of comprehensive and integrated system of care. While utilizing Cognitive-behavioral Therapy, Enhanced Motivational Interviewing, and Strengths-based counseling, the NTC BH program also believes that the clinician/client relationship is one of the most important factors in treatment success and client care. NTC BH philosophy is to assist the client in replacing maladaptive behaviors with functional ones, and that dual diagnosis is the expectation instead of the exception. We incorporate 'Best Practice' approaches as they apply to the outpatient care setting. Key elements: The NTC BH program offers services that include adult outpatient substance abuse treatment, youth SED services, and mental health counseling. Scope of services include integrated and substance use assessments which contain screenings of medical, nutritional, educational, vocational needs and referrals, and family of origin history, as well as individualized treatment planning, individual and group therapy for mental health and substance abuse, play therapy for children and adolescents, family therapy (as indicated), case management services, referrals, outreach and prevention services, and coordination of care with other providers to assist the client in comprehensive and holistic care. |
